Founded in 1973, the Mauritius Institute of Education was entrusted with the responsibility for training of primary school teachers, curriculum development and research. It assumed full responsibility for all training programmes for the primary and secondary sectors in the early 1980s and for the pre-primary sector a decade later.

In 2010, the MIE was given the entire responsibility for curriculum development. Currently, the MIE also caters for the professional development of educational stakeholders and the digitisation of curriculum materials.

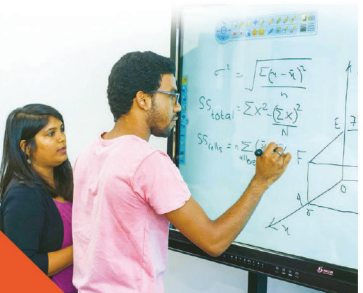

In 2018, the MIE was granted its degree awarding status.
